UNIT 1 : NATURE OF CONTRACT

Contract - "an agreement enforceable by law"

Agreement - The term 'agreement' given in Section 2(e) of the Act is defined as- "every promise and every set of promises, forming the consideration for each other".

when the person to whom the proposal is made signifies his assent there to, the proposal is said to be accepted. Proposal when accepted, becomes a promise".

Enforceability by law - An agreement to become a contract must give rise to a legal obligation.

Essentials of a Valid Contract (As given by sec 10):-

- ✓ Offer and Acceptance or an agreement - An agreement is the first essential element of a valid contract. According to Section 2(e) of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, "Every promise and every set of promises, forming consideration for each other, is an agreement" and according to Section 2(b) "A proposal when accepted, becomes a promise". An agreement is an outcome of offer and acceptance for consideration.
- ✓ Free Consent - Two or more persons are said to consent when they agree upon the same thing in the same sense (consensus ad idem). It must be free. If it is caused by coercion, undue influence, fraud or, misrepresentation the voidable, if by mistake - Void.
- ✓ Capacity of the parties - a person to enter into a valid contract if person who attain • Age of majority • Is of sound mind • Not disqualified from contracting by any law to which he is subject
- ✓ Consideration - It is referred to as 'quid pro quo' i.e. 'something in return. A valid consideration may consist some right, interest, profit or benefit accruing to one party, or some forbearance, detriment, loss or responsibility given, suffered or undertaken by the other
- ✓ Lawful Consideration and Object - .i.e. it must not be prohibited by law/defeat provisions of law/something immoral/opposed to public policy
- ✓ Not expressly declared to be void - Must not be either illegal or void. An illegal agreement is an agreement expressly or impliedly prohibited by law. A void agreement is one without any legal effects.

Essentials of a Valid Contract (Not given in sec 10 still essential):-

Two Parties: It involves at least two parties one party making the offer and the other party accepting it. A contract may be made by natural persons and by other persons having legal existence. Case Law - State of Gujarat vs. Ramanlal S & Co

Parties must intend to create legal obligations : intention on the part of the parties to create legal relationship between them, Social or domestic type of agreements are not enforceable in court of law and hence they do not result into contracts. Case Law - Balfour v. Balfour

Possibility of performance of an agreement: should be capable of performance, an act impossible in itself cannot be enforced.

Other Formalities to be complied with in certain cases - writing or registration

Certainty of meaning - must be certain and not vague or indefinite

Basis	Agreement	Contract
Meaning	Every promise and every set of promises, forming the consideration for each other. (Promise + Consideration)	Agreement enforceable by law. (Agreement + Legal enforceability)
Scope	It's a wider term in both legal and social agreement.	It is used in a narrow sense that contract is only legally enforceable.
Legal obligation	It may not create legal obligation.	Necessarily creates a legal obligation.
Nature	All agreement are not contracts.	All contracts are agreements

TYPES OF CONTRACT

On The Basis Of The Validity:

- Valid Contract - An agreement which is binding and enforceable is a valid contract. It contains all the essential elements of a valid contract
- Void Contract - A contract which ceases to be enforceable by law becomes void when it ceases to be enforceable.
- Voidable Contract - an agreement which is enforceable by law at the option of one or more parties thereto, but not at the option of the other or others is a voidable contract.
- Illegal Contract - The court will not enforce such a contract but also the connected contracts. All illegal agreements are void but all void agreements are not necessarily illegal
- Unenforceable Contract - Where a contract is good in substance but because of some technical defect it cannot sue upon it

On basis of the formation:-

- Express Contracts: A contract would be an express contract if the terms are expressed by words or in writing.
- Implied Contracts: Implied contracts in contrast come into existence by implication. proposal or acceptance is made otherwise than in words, the promise is said to be implied.
- Tacit Contracts: The word Tacit means silent. Tacit contracts are those that are inferred through the conduct of parties without any words spoken or written. (ATM Machine).
- Quasi-Contract: not an actual contract but it resembles a contract. Created by law under certain circumstances.
- E-Contracts: When a contract is entered into by two or more parties using electronics means - EDI - Electronic Data Inter change/ Cyber contracts or mouse click contracts.

On basis of the performance:-

- Executed Contract - When the act is done or executed or the forbearance is brought on record, then the contract is an executed contract.
 - Executory Contract - PENDING CONTRACT
- 1) Unilateral Contract: Unilateral contract is a one sided contract in which one party has performed his duty or obligation and the other party's obligation is outstanding.
 - 2) Bilateral Contract: A Bilateral contract is one where the obligation or promise is outstanding on the part of both the parties.

PROPOSAL/OFFER: when one person signifies to another his willingness to do or to abstain from doing anything with a view to obtaining the assent of that other to such act or abstinence, he is said to make a proposal.

Classification Of Offer

General offer - offer made to public at large and hence anyone can accept and do the desired act. Until the general offer is retracted or withdrawn, it can be accepted by anyone at any time as it is a continuing offer. Case law - Carlill Vs. Carbolic Smoke Ball Co

Special/specific offer - When the offer is made to a specific or an ascertained person, it is known as a specific offer. Specific offer can be accepted only by that specified person. Boulton v. Jones

Cross offer - When two parties exchange identical offers in ignorance at the time of each other's offer. There is no binding contract in such a case because offer made by a person cannot be construed as acceptance of the another's offer.

Counter offer: When the offeree offers to qualified acceptance of the offer subject to modifications and variations in the terms of original offer. Counter-offer amounts to rejection of the original offer. It is also called as Conditional Acceptance.

Standing or continuing or open offer: An offer which is allowed to remain open for acceptance over a period of time.

What is invitation to offer? - Where a party without expressing his final willingness proposes certain terms on which he is willing to negotiate he does not make an offer, but only invites the other party to make an offer on those terms. If a person has the intention of negotiating on terms it is called invitation to offer. An invitation to offer is always an act precedent to offer.

Essential of a valid offer:

1. It must be capable of creating legal relations - Offer must be such as in law is capable of being accepted and giving rise to legal relationship. A social invitation, even if it is accepted, does not create legal relations because it is not so intended.
2. It must be certain, definite and not vague: Terms of an offer SHOULD NOT BE vague or indefinite.
3. It must be communicated to the offeree: An offer must be communicated to the person to whom it is made, otherwise there can be no acceptance of it. An acceptance of an offer, in ignorance of the offer, is not acceptance and does not confer any right on the acceptor. (Lalman Shukla v. GauriDutt)'
4. It must be made with a view to obtaining the assent of the other party
5. It may be conditional
6. Offer should not contain a term the non compliance of which would amount to acceptance
7. The offer may be either specific or general
8. The offer may be express or implied
9. Offer is Different from a mere statement of intention, an invitation to offer, a mere communication of information, A prospectus and Advertisement, from an answer to a question (Harvey vs. Face).
10. A statement of price is not an offer

Standard forms of contracts:

- well established that a standard form of contract may be enforced on another who is subjectively unaware of the contents of the document, provided the party wanting to enforce the contract has given notice which, in the circumstances of a case, is sufficiently reasonable.
- But the acceptor will not incur any contractual obligation, if the document is so printed and delivered to him in such a state that it does not give reasonable notice on its face that it contains certain special conditions.

COMMUNICATION OF OFFER AND ACCEPTANCE

Communication of offer - the communication of offer is complete when it comes to the knowledge of the person to whom it is made.

Communication of acceptance :

Modes - 1. Communication by act - include any expression of words whether written or oral.

2. Communication of acceptance by 'omission' to do something.

3. Communication of acceptance by conduct.

Communication of acceptance - In terms of Section 4 of the Act, it is complete,

∅ As against the proposer, when it is put in the course of transmission to him so as to be out of the power of the acceptor to withdraw the same;

∅ As against the acceptor, when it comes to the knowledge of the proposer.

Acceptance over telephone or telex or fax - complete when the acceptance is received by the offeree. However, in case of a call drops and disturbances in the line, there may not be a valid contract.

Communication of special conditions: Sometimes there are situations where there are contracts with special conditions. These special conditions are conveyed tacitly and the acceptance of these conditions are also conveyed by the offeree again tacitly or without him even realizing it. Lilly White vs. Mannuswamy

REVOCAION OF OFFER AND ACCEPTANCE:

In terms of Sec 5 of the Act a proposal can be revoked at any time before the communication of its acceptance is complete as against the proposer. An acceptance may be revoked at any time before the communication of acceptance is complete as against the acceptor. Revocation of proposal otherwise than by communication:

Modes :

- By notice of revocation
- By lapse of time
- By non fulfillment of condition precedent
- By death or insanity
- By counter offer
- By the non acceptance of the offer according to the prescribed or usual mode
- By subsequent illegality

UNIT 2:-CONSIDERATION

Consideration is an essential element of a valid contract without which no single promise will be enforceable. Quid pro quo, i.e., 'something in return.

WHAT IS CONSIDERATION? - "When at the desire of the promisor, the promisee or any other person has done or abstained from doing, or does or abstains from doing or promises to do or abstain from doing something, such an act or abstinence or promise is called consideration for the promise".

SUIT BY A THIRD PARTY TO A CONTRACT- Doctrine of privity of contract" - The consideration for an agreement may proceed from a third party, the third party cannot sue on contract. Only a person who is party to a contract can sue on it. Thus, the concept of stranger to consideration is a valid and is different from stranger to a contract.

- Exceptions -
1. In the case of trust, a beneficiary can enforce his right under the trust, though he was not a party to the contract between the settler and the trustee.
 2. In the case of a family settlement, if the terms of the settlement are reduced into writing, the members of family who originally had not been parties to the settlement may enforce the agreement.
 3. In the case of certain marriage contracts/arrangements, a provision may be made for the benefit of a person, he may file the suit though he is not a party to the agreement.
 4. In the case of assignment of a contract, when the benefit under a contract has been assigned, the assignee can enforce the contract.
 5. Acknowledgement or estoppel - where the promisor by his conduct acknowledges himself as an agent of the third party, it would result into a binding obligation towards third party.
 6. In the case of covenant running with the land, the person who purchases land with notice that the owner of land is bound by certain duties affecting land, the covenant affecting the land may be enforced by the successor of the seller.
 7. Contracts entered into through an agent: The principal can enforce the contracts entered by his agent where the agent has acted within the scope of his authority and in his name.

LEGAL RULES REGARDING CONSIDERATION -

- a) Consideration must move at the desire of the promisor: Consideration must be offered by the promisee or the third party at the desire or request of the promisor. Case law - Durga Prasad v. Baldeo
- b) Consideration may move from promisee or any other person: consideration may proceed from the promisee or any other person who is not a party to the contract. there can be a stranger to a consideration but not stranger to a contract. Case law - Chinnayya vs. Ramayya
- c) Executed and executory consideration - A consideration which consists in the performance of an act is said to be executed. When it consists in a promise, it is said to be executory.
- d) Consideration may be past, present or future
- e) Consideration need not be adequate - Consideration need not to be of any particular value. It need not be approximately of equal value with the promise for which it is exchanged but it must be something which the law would regard as having some value. section 25(2) - agreement to which the consent of the promisor is freely given is not void merely because the consideration is inadequate. But as an exception if it is shockingly less and the other party alleges that his consent was not free than this inadequate consideration can be taken as an evidence in support of this allegation.
- f) Performance of what one is legally bound to perform: The performance of an act by a person who is legally bound to perform the same cannot be consideration for a contract. Ex - an agreement by a client to pay to his counsel after the latter has been engaged, a certain sum over and above the fee, in the event of success of the case would be void, since it is without consideration.
- g) Consideration must be real and not illusory
- h) Consideration must not be unlawful, immoral, or opposed to public policy.

VALIDITY OF AN AGREEMENT WITHOUT CONSIDERATION - Agreement made without consideration is void.

EXCEPTIONS:-

Natural Love and Affection
- Conditions to be fulfilled under section 25(1)

- It must be made out of natural love and affection between the parties.
- Parties must stand in near relationship to each other.
- It must be in writing
- It must also be registered under the law.

A written and registered agreement based on natural love and affection between the parties standing in near relation to each other is enforceable even without consideration.

Compensation for past voluntary services: The following essential factors must exist:

- ✓ The services should have been rendered voluntarily.
- ✓ The services must have been rendered for the promisor.
- ✓ The promisor must be in existence at the time when services were rendered.
- ✓ The promisor must have intended to compensate the promisee.

Promise to pay time barred debt: Where a promise in writing signed by the person making it or by his authorised agent, is made to pay a debt barred by limitation it is valid without consideration.

Completed gift: the rule no consideration no contract does not apply

Bailment: No consideration is required to effect the contract of bailment

Agency: According to Section 185 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, no consideration is necessary to create an agency.

Charity: If a promisee undertakes the liability on the promise of the person to contribute to charity, there the contract shall be valid.

UNIT 3 - OTHER ESSENTIALS OF A VALID CONTRACT

Capacity to Contract:- Capacity refers to the competence of the parties to make a contract.

Section 11 : A. has attained the age of majority, B. is of sound mind and C. is not disqualified from contracting by any law to which he is subject

Age of Majority:

Every person domiciled in India shall attain the age of majority on the completion of 18 years of age and not before.

Person of sound mind: "a person is said to be of sound mind for the purposes of making a contract if, at the time when he makes it is capable of understanding it and of forming a rational judgement as to its effect upon his interests."

A person who is usually of unsound mind, but occasionally of sound mind, may make a contract when he is of sound mind.

A person who is usually of sound mind, but occasionally of unsound mind, may not make a contract when he is of unsound mind.

Contract by disqualified persons:

Incompetency to contract may arise from political status, corporate status, legal status, etc. The following persons fall in this category: Foreign Soverigns and Ambassadors, Alien enemy, Convicts, Insolvent.

LAW RELATING TO MINOR -

1. A contract made with or by a minor is void ab-initio - Mohori Bibi vs. Dharmo Das Ghose
2. No ratification after attaining majority: void agreement can never be ratified.
3. A minor can always plead minority: A minor can always plead minority and is not stopped to do so even where he has taken any loan or entered into any contract by falsely representing that he was major.
4. No specific performance:
5. No insolvency

6. Minor can be a beneficiary or can take benefit out of a contract: - nothing in the Contract Act prevents him from making the other party bound to the minor - a promissory note duly executed in favour of a minor is not void and can be sued upon by him, because he though incompetent to contract, may yet accept a benefit. - A minor cannot become partner in a partnership firm. However, he may with the consent of all the partners, be admitted to the benefits of partnership.
7. Liability for necessaries: - A claim for necessaries supplied to a minor is enforceable by law. - Not liable - more than the value of the necessaries. - no personal liability of the minor, but only his property is liable. - Two conditions must be satisfied - 1. The contract must be for the goods reasonably necessary for his support in the station in life 2. The minor must not have already a sufficient supply of these necessaries. - Necessaries mean those things that are essentially needed by a minor - They cannot include luxuries or costly or unnecessary articles. Necessaries extend to all such things as reasonable persons would supply to an infant in that class of society to which the infant belongs. - Expenses on minor's education, on funeral ceremonies come within the scope of the word 'necessaries'.
8. Contract by guardian - how far enforceable: - Where the guardian makes a contract for the minor, which is within his competence and which is for the benefit of the minor, it will be valid contract. - guardian has no power to bind the minor for the purchase of immovable Property. - But a contract entered into by a certified guardian (appointed by the Court) of a minor, with the sanction of the court for the sale of the minor's property, maybe enforced by either party to the contract.
9. Partnership - A minor being incompetent to contract cannot be a partner in a partnership firm but he can be admitted to the benefits of partnership.
10. Minor can be an agent: A minor can act as an agent. But he will not be liable to his principal for his acts. A minor can draw, deliver and endorse negotiable instruments without himself being liable.

11. Minor cannot bind parent or guardian: In the absence of authority, express or implied, an infant is not capable of binding his parent or guardian, even for necessities. The parents will be held liable only when the child is acting as an agent for parents.
12. Joint contract by minor and adult: In such a case, the adult will be liable on the contract and not the minor.
13. Surety for a minor: In a contract of guarantee when an adult stands surety for a minor then he (adult) is liable to third party as there is direct contract between the surety and the third party.
14. Minor as Shareholder: Minor as Shareholder: A minor, being incompetent to contract cannot be a shareholder of the company. If by mistake he becomes a member, the company can rescind the transaction and remove his name from register. But, a minor may, acting through his lawful guardian become a shareholder by transfer or transmission of fully paid shares to him.
15. Liability for torts: A tort is a civil wrong. A minor is liable in tort unless the tort in reality is a breach of contract.

Section 13 : "two or more persons are said to consent when they agree upon the same thing in the same sense." Consent is free when not caused by:- Coercion, fraud, undue influence, misrepresentation, mistake.

Coercion (Section 15)- "It is committing, or threatening to commit any act forbidden by the Indian Penal Code or the unlawful detaining, or threatening to detain any property, to the prejudice of any person whatever, with the intention of causing any person to enter into an agreement."

Effects of coercion -

1. Contract is voidable at the option of the party whose consent was so obtained.
2. the rescission of voidable contract, the party rescinding a void contract should, if he has received any benefit, thereunder from the other party to the contract, restore such benefit so far as may be applicable, to the person from whom it was received.
3. A person to whom money has been paid or anything delivered under coercion must repay or return it.¹⁷

Undue influence (Section 16) - "A contract where the relations subsisting between the parties are such that one of the parties is in a position to dominate the will of the other and he uses that position to obtain an unfair advantage over the other".

A person is deemed to be in position to dominate the will of another: The object must be to take undue advantage

Where he holds a real or apparent authority over the other. Ex:- master and servant, doctor and patient, etc

Where he stands in a fiduciary relationship :
Where relation of trust and confidence exists between the parties to a contract. Ex:- father and son, solicitor and client, husband and wife, etc.

Mental distress: An undue influence can be used against a person to get his consent on a contract where the mental capacity of the person is temporarily or permanently affected by the reason of mental or bodily distress, illness or of old age.

Unconscionable bargains:
Where one of the parties to a contract is in a position to dominate the will of the other and the contract is apparently unconscionable i.e., unfair, it is presumed by law that consent must have been obtained by undue influence.

Burden of proof: The burden of proving the absence of the use of the dominant position to obtain the unfair advantage will lie on the party who is in a position to dominate the will of the other.

Power to set aside contract induced by undue influence- (Section 19A) contract may be set aside either absolutely or, if the party who was entitled to avoid it has received any benefit thereunder, upon such terms and conditions as to the Court may seem just.

Section 17 - Fraud

Effect of Fraud upon validity of a contract:

- rescind the contract within a reasonable time
- sue for damages
- insist on the performance: on the condition that he shall be put in the position in which he would have been had the representation made been true.

In contracts of marine, fire and life insurance, there is an implied condition that full disclosure of material facts shall be made, otherwise the insurer is entitled to avoid the contract

Mere silence is not fraud

- A party to the contract is under no obligation to disclose the whole truth to the other party. 'Caveat Emptor' i.e. let the purchaser beware is the rule applicable to contracts.
- There is no duty to speak in such cases and silence does not amount to fraud. Similarly there is no duty to disclose facts which are within the knowledge of both the parties.

Silence is fraud:

- Where the silence itself is equivalent to speech.
- Where it is duty of the person to speak:-

Contracts of marriage/ family settlement

Fiduciary Relationship: the person in whom confidence is reposed is under a duty to act with utmost good faith and make full disclosure of all material facts.

Share Allotment contracts: Persons issuing 'Prospectus' at the time of public issue of shares company have to disclose all material facts within their knowledge.

'Fraud' means and includes any of the following acts committed by a party to a contract, or with his connivance, or by his agent, with an intent to deceive another party thereto or his agent, or to induce him to enter into the contract:

- (1) the suggestion, as a fact, of that which is not true, by one who does not believe it to be true;
- (2) the active concealment of a fact by one having knowledge or belief of the fact;
- (3) a promise made without any intention of performing it;
- (4) any other act fitted to deceive;
- (5) any such act or omission as the law specially declares to be fraudulent.

Sec 18: Misrepresentation:

Misrepresentation means and includes -

- the positive assertion, in a manner not warranted by the information of the person making it, of that which is not true, though he believes it to be true;
- any breach of duty which, without an intent to deceive, gains an advantage to the person committing it, or any one claiming under him; by misleading another to his prejudice or to the prejudice of any one claiming under him;
- causing, however, innocently, a party to an agreement to make a mistake as to the substance of the thing which is the subject of the agreement.

Sec 19: Legal effects of agreements without free consent.

CUFM - Voidable. A party to contract, whose consent was so caused by fraud or misrepresentation may, if he thinks fit, insist that the contract shall be performed, and that he shall be put in the position in which he would have been if the representation made had been true.

Exception - If such consent was caused by misrepresentation or by silence, fraudulent within the meaning of section 17, the contract is not voidable, if the party whose consent was so caused had the means of discovering the truth with ordinary diligence.

A fraud or misrepresentation which did not cause the consent to a contract of the party on whom such fraud was practiced, or to whom such misrepresentation was made, does not render a contract voidable.

MISTAKE: defined as innocent or erroneous belief which leads the party to misunderstand the others.

Mistake may be - Bilateral mistake is when both the parties to a contract are under a mistake. - Unilateral mistake is when only one party to the contract is under a mistake.

Mistake of Law: A mistake of law does not render a contract void as one cannot take excuse of ignorance of the law of his own country. But if the mistake of law is caused through the inducement of another, the contract may be avoided. Mistake of foreign law is excusable and is treated like a mistake of fact. Contract may be avoided on such mistake.

Mistake of fact: Where the contracting parties misunderstood each other and are at cross purposes, there is a bilateral or mutual mistake. Bilateral mistake - if relates to material fact, contract is void. ²⁰

LEGALITY OF OBJECT AND CONSIDERATION

When it is forbidden by law:
Acts forbidden by law are those which are punishable under any statute as well as those prohibited by regulations or orders made in exercise of the authority conferred by the legislature.

When it defeats the provision of law:
The court looks at the real intention of the parties to an agreement.

When it is fraudulent:
Agreements which are entered into to promote fraud are void

When it defeats any rule for the time being in force in India

When it involves injury to the person/property of another

When it is immoral

When consideration is opposed to public policy

Opposed to public policy -

- 1. Trading with enemy: Any trade with person owing allegiance to a Government at war with India without the licence of the Government of India is void, as the object is opposed to public policy. Here, the agreement to trade offends against the public policy by tending to prejudice the interest of the State in times of war.
- 2. Stifling Prosecution - An agreement to stifle prosecution i.e. "an agreement to prevent proceedings already instituted from running their normal course using force" tends to be a perversion or an abuse of justice; therefore, such an agreement is void.
If compoundable offences settled - not opposed to public policy
Uncompoundable - opposed to public policy.

3. Maintenance and Champerty:

- Maintenance is an agreement in which a person promises to maintain suit in which he has no interest.
- Champerty is an agreement in which a person agrees to assist another in litigation in-exchange of a promise to hand over a portion of the proceeds of the action.
- The agreement for supplying funds by way of Maintenance or Champerty is valid unless
 1. It is unreasonable so as to be unjust to other party or
 2. It is made by a malicious motive like that of gambling in litigation or oppressing other party by encouraging unrighteous suits and not with the bonafide object of assisting a claim believed to be just.

4. Traffic relating to Public Offices-

An agreement to traffic in public office is opposed to public policy, as it interferes with the appointment of a person best qualified for the service of the public. Public policy requires that there should be no money consideration for the appointment to an office in which the public is interested.

5. Agreements tending to create monopolies

6. Marriage brokerage agreements: An agreement to negotiate marriage for reward, which is known as a marriage brokerage contract, is void

7. Interference with the course of justice - An agreement whose object is to induce any judicial officer of the State to act partially or corruptly is void.

8. Interest against obligation

9. Consideration Unlawful in Part:

Unlawful - Void

Lawful - Valid

VOID AGREEMENTS

Wagering agreement (Sec 30): An agreement by way of a wager is void. It is an agreement involving payment of a sum of money upon the determination of an uncertain event.

Agreement in restraint of trade (Sec 27): An agreement by which any person is restrained from exercising a lawful profession, trade or business of any kind, is to that extent void

Agreement - the meaning of which is uncertain (Sec 29)

Agreement in restraint of marriage (Sec 26): Every agreement in restraint of marriage of any person other than a minor, is void. So if a major agrees for good consideration not to marry, the promise is not binding and considered as void

Agreement in restraint of legal proceedings (Sec 28): is the one by which any party thereto is restricted absolutely from enforcing his rights under a contract through a Court or which abridges the usual period for starting legal proceedings.

Exceptions - 1. where a person sells the goodwill of a business and agrees with the buyer to refrain from carrying on a similar business, within specified local limits, so long as the buyer or his successor in interest carries on a like business therein, such an agreement is valid. Such local limits must be reasonable

2. If an outgoing partner makes an agreement with the continuing partners that he will not carry on any business similar to that of the firm within a specified period or within specified local limits, such an agreement, though in restraint of trade, will be valid, if the restrictions imposed are reasonable.

3. an agreement of service by which an employee binds himself, during the term of his agreement, not to compete with his employer is not in restraint of trade.

4. Trade Combinations to the extent they do not create monopoly

Exceptions - 1. A contract by which the parties agree that any dispute between them in respect of any subject shall be referred to arbitration and that only the amount awarded in such arbitration shall be recoverable is a valid contract. 2. a contract by which the parties agree to refer to arbitration any question between them which has already arisen or which may arise in future, is valid; but such a contract must be in writing.

WAGERING AGREEMENT (SECTION 30): the essence of a wager is that each side should stand to win or lose, depending on the way an uncertain event takes place in reference to which the chance is taken and in the occurrence of which neither of the parties has legitimate interest.

Transactions similar to Wager (Gambling):

1. Lottery transactions: A lottery is a game of chance and not of skill or knowledge. Where the prime motive of participant is gambling, the transaction amounts to a wager. Effect of acceptance of performance out of time: Even where time is essential the promisee may waive his right to repudiate the contract, when the promisor fails to perform the promise within the stipulated time He may accept performance at any time other than that agreed. In such an event, he cannot claim compensation for any loss occasioned by the non-performance of the promise at the time agreed, unless at the time of acceptance of the performance he has given a notice to the promisor of his intention to claim compensation.

✓ Agreement to do Impossible Act

❖ Initial Impossibility - (Impossibility existing at the time of contract): When the parties agree upon doing of something which is obviously impossible in itself the agreement would be void.

If known to the parties: It would be observed that an agreement constituted, quite unknown to the parties, may be impossible of being performed and hence void.

Effect of novation:

- ❖ The parties may substitute a new contract for the old. If they do so, it will be a case of novation.

Discharge by impossibility of performance -
Supervening impossibility may take place owing to:

- ❖ an unforeseen change in law
- ❖ the destruction of the subject-matter essential to that performance;
- ❖ the non-existence or non-occurrence of particular state of things, which was naturally contemplated for performing the contract, as a result of some personal incapacity like dangerous malady;
- ❖ the declaration of a war (Section 56)

Discharge by breach of contract: Breach of contract may be actual breach or anticipatory breach.

Effects of neglect of promisee to afford promisor reasonable facilities for performance

Promisee may waive or remit performance of promise: discharge of contract by remission

Merger of rights: the inferior rights and the superior rights coincide and meet in one and the same person. In such cases, the inferior rights merge into the superior rights

UNIT 5: BREACH OF CONTRACT AND ITS REMEDIES

Breach means failure of a party to perform his or her obligation under a contract. Breach of contract may arise in two ways:

ANTICIPATORY BREACH OF CONTRACT (Sec 39):

• When the promisor refuses altogether to perform his promise and signifies his unwillingness even before the time for performance has arrived, it is called Anticipatory Breach. -

- Anticipatory breach of a contract may take either of the following two ways: Expressly by words spoken or written, and Impliedly by the conduct of one of the parties

• Effect of anticipatory breach:

1. To either treat the contract as "rescinded and sue the other party for damages from breach of contract immediately without waiting until the due date of performance; Or
2. He may elect not to rescind but to treat the contract as still operative, and wait for the time of performance and then hold the other party responsible for the consequences of non performance. But in this case, he will keep the contract alive for the benefit of the other party as well as his own, and the guilty party, if he so decides on re-consideration, may still perform his part of the contract and can also take advantage of any supervening impossibility which may have the effect of discharging the contract

ACTUAL BREACH OF CONTRACT MAY BE COMMITTED-

• At the time when the performance of the contract is due.

• During the performance of the contract:

Actual breach of contract also occurs when during the performance of the contract, one party fails or refuses to perform his obligation under it by express or implied act.

KINDS OF DAMAGES

Ordinary damages: When a contract has been broken, the party who suffers by such breach is entitled to receive, from the party who has broken the contract, compensation for any loss or damage cause to him thereby, which naturally arose in the usual course of things from such breach, or which the parties know, when they made the contract, to be likely to result from the breach of it: Such compensation is not to be given for any remote and indirect loss or damage sustained by reasons of the breach.

HADLEY
vs.
BAXENDALE

Special damages: Where a party to a contract receives a notice of special circumstances affecting the contract, he will be liable not only for damages arising naturally and directly from the breach but also for special damages.

Nominal damages: Nominal damages are awarded where the plaintiff has proved that there has been a breach of contract but he has not in fact suffered any real damage. It is awarded just to establish the right to decree for the breach of contract. The amount may be a rupee or even 10 paise.

Pre-fixed damages:

Sometimes, parties to a contract stipulate at the time of its formation that on a breach of contract by any of them, a certain amount will be payable as damage. It may amount to either liquidated damages (i.e., a reasonable estimate of the likely loss in case of breach) or a penalty (i.e., an amount arbitrarily fixed as the damages payable) as per section 74.

Vindictive or Exemplary damages

- These may be awarded only in two cases -

- > for breach of promise to marry because it causes injury to his or her feelings; and
- > for wrongful dishonour by a banker of his customer's cheque because in this case the injury due to wrongful dishonour to the drawer of cheque is so heavy that it causes loss of credit and reputation to him. A business man whose credit has suffered will get exemplary damages even if he has sustained no pecuniary loss. But a non-trader cannot get heavy damages in the like circumstances, unless the damages are alleged and proved as special damages

PENALTY AND LIQUIDATED DAMAGES (SECTION 74): Section 74 provides that if a sum is named in a contract as the amount to be paid in case of a breach, the aggrieved party is entitled to receive from the party at fault a reasonable compensation not exceeding the amount so named (Section 74).

English Law: According to English law, the sum so fixed in the contract may be interpreted either as liquidated damages or as a penalty. If the sum fixed in the contract represents a genuine pre-estimate by the parties of the loss, which would be caused by a future breach of the contract it is liquidated damages. It is an assessment of the amount which in the opinion of the parties will compensate for the breach. Such a clause is effective and the amount is recoverable. But where the sum fixed in the contract is unreasonable and is used to force the other party to perform the contract; it is penalty. Such a clause is disregarded and the injured party cannot recover more than the actual loss.

Indian Law: It makes no distinction between 'penalty' and liquidated damages'. The Courts in India award only a reasonable compensation not exceeding the sum so mentioned in the contract. Section 74 of the Contract Act lays down if the parties have fixed what the damages will be, the courts will never allow more. But the court may allow less. A decree is to be passed only for reasonable compensation not exceeding the sum named by the parties. Thus, Section 74 entitles a person complaining of breach of contract to get reasonable compensation and does not entitle him to realise anything by way of penalty.

Exception: Where any person gives any bond to the Central or State government for the performance of any public duty or act in which the public are interested, on breach of the condition of any such instrument, he shall be liable to pay the whole sum mentioned therein.

Party rightfully rescinding contract, entitled to compensation (Sec 75) - A person who rightfully rescinds a contract is entitled to compensation for any damage which he has sustained through non-fulfilment of the contract

REMEDIES FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT

Suit For Damages:

Compensation for loss or damage caused by breach of contract (Sec 73)

➤ When a contract has been broken, the party who suffers by such a breach is entitled to receive, from the party who has broken the contract, compensation for any loss or damage caused to him thereby, which naturally arose in the usual course of things from such breach, or which the parties knew, when they made the contract, to be likely to result from the breach of it.

➤ Such compensation is not to be given for any remote and indirect loss or damage sustained by reason of the breach

Suit For Specific Performance :

Where damages are not an adequate remedy in the case of breach of contract, the court may in its discretion on a suit for specific performance direct party in breach, to carry out his promise according to the terms of the contract.

Rescission of contract

Suit for injunction: Where a party to a contract is negating the terms of a contract, the court may by issuing an 'injunction orders', restrain him from doing what he promised not to do.

Quantum Meruit: Where one person has rendered service to another in circumstances which indicate an understanding between them that it is to be paid for although no particular remuneration has been fixed, the law will infer a promise to pay. Quantum Meruit i.e. as much as the party doing the service has deserved. It covers a case where the party injured by the breach had at time of breach done part but not all of the work which he is bound to do under the contract and seeks to be compensated for the value of the work done. For the application of this doctrine, two conditions must be fulfilled:

- It is only available if the original contract has been discharged.
- The claim must be brought by a party not in default.
- The object of allowing a claim on quantum meruit is to recompensate the party or person for value of work which he has done. Damages are compensatory in nature while quantum meruit is restitutory. It is but reasonable compensation awarded on implication of a contract to remunerate

UNIT 6 - CONTINGENT CONTRACT AND QUASI CONTRACTS

Contingent Contract' (Sec 31) - "A contract to do or not to do something, if some event, collateral to such contract, does or does not happen". Contracts of Insurance, indemnity & guarantee fall under this category.

Essentials of a contingent contract:

1. The performance of such contract would depend upon the happening or non-happening of some event or condition. The condition may be precedent or subsequent.
2. The event referred to as collateral to the contract. The event is not part of the contract. The event should be neither performance promised nor a consideration for a promise.
3. The contingent event should not be a mere 'will' of the promisor. The event should be contingent in addition to being the will of the promisor.
4. The event must be uncertain. Where the event is certain or bound to happen, the contract is due to be performed, then it is a not contingent contract.

Difference between Contingent and Wagering Contract:-

- ✓ Meaning: A contingent contract is a contract to do or not to do something with reference to a collateral event happening or not happening. A wagering agreement is a promise to give money or money's worth with reference to an uncertain event happening or not happening.
- ✓ Reciprocal promises: Contingent contract may not contain reciprocal promises. A wagering agreement consists of reciprocal promises.
- ✓ Uncertain event: In a contingent contract, the event is collateral. In a wagering contract, the uncertain event is the core factor.
- ✓ Nature of contract: Contingent contract may not be wagering in nature. A wagering agreement is essentially contingent in nature.
- ✓ Interest of contracting parties: Contracting parties have interest in the subject matter in contingent contract. The contracting parties have no interest in the subject matter.
- ✓ Doctrine of mutuality of lose and gain: Contingent contract is not based on doctrine of mutuality of lose and gain. A wagering contract is a game, losing and gaining alone matters.
- ✓ Effect of contract: Contingent contract-valid. Wagering-void.

RULES RELATING TO ENFORCEMENT OF CONTINGENT CONTRACT

Enforcement of contracts contingent on an event happening: Where a contract identifies happening of a future contingent event, the contract cannot be enforced until and unless the event 'happens'. If the happening of the event becomes impossible, then the contingent contract is void.

Enforcement of contracts contingent on an event not happening: Where a contingent contract is made contingent on a non-happening of an event, it can be enforced only when it's happening becomes impossible.

A contract would cease to be enforceable if it is contingent upon the conduct of a living person when that living person does something to make the 'event' or 'conduct' as impossible of happening.

Contingent on happening of specified event within the fixed time: Sec 35 says that Contingent contracts to do or not to do anything, if a specified uncertain event happens within a fixed time, becomes void if, at the expiration of time fixed, such event has not happened, or if, before the time fixed, such event becomes impossible.

"Contingent contracts to do or not to do anything, if a specified uncertain event does not happen within a fixed time, may be enforced by law when the time fixed has expired, and such event has not happened or before the time fixed has expired, if it becomes certain that such event will not happen".

Contingent on an impossible event: Not enforceable (Void)

QUASI CONTRACTS are based on principles of equity, justice and good conscience. A quasi or constructive contract rest upon the maxims, "No man must grow rich out of another person's loss". These relations are called as quasi-contractual obligations. In India it is also called as 'certain relation resembling those created by contracts.

Salient Features Of Quasi Contracts:

- ✓ In the first place, such right is always right to money and generally, not always, to liquidated sum of money.
- ✓ Secondly, it does not arise from any agreement of the parties concerned, but is imposed by the law; and
- ✓ Thirdly, it is a right which is available not against all the world, but against a particular person or persons only, so that in this respect it resembles a contractual right.

CASES DEEMED AS QUASI CONTRACTS

1. Claim for necessaries supplied to persons incapable of contracting (Sec 68): If a person, incapable of entering into a contract, or anyone whom he is legally bound to support, is supplied by another person with necessaries suited to his condition in life, the person who has furnished such supplies is entitled to be reimbursed from the property of such incapable person. To establish his claim, the supplier must prove not only that the goods were supplied to the person who was minor or a lunatic but also that they were suitable to his actual requirements at the time of the sale and delivery.

It thus follows that for a suit to succeed, the plaintiff must prove: that he had done the act or had delivered the thing lawfully; that he did not do so gratuitously; and that the other person enjoyed the benefit.

4. Responsibility of finder of goods (Sec 71): is same responsibility as if he were a bailee.

- ✓ a company may purchase shares of another company and thus become a controlling company. However, merely because a company purchases all shares of another company it will not serve as a means of putting an end to the corporate character of another company and each company is a separate juristic entity [Spencer & Co. Ltd. Madras vs. CWT Madras]. The mere fact that the entire share capital has been contributed by the Central Government and all its shares are held by the President of India and other officers of the Central Government does not make any difference in the position of registered company and it does not make a company an agent either of the President or the Central Government [Heavy Electrical Union vs. State of Bihar].

Doctrine of Ultra Vires:- The meaning of the term ultra vires is simply "beyond (their) powers".

✓ When an act is performed, which though legal in itself, is not authorized by the object clause of the memorandum, or by the statute, it is said to be ultravires the company, and hence null and void, and is therefore not binding on the company. The impact of the doctrine of ultra vires is that a company can neither be sued on an ultra vires transaction, nor can it sue on it.

✓ An act which is ultravires, the company cannot be ratified even by the unanimous consent of all the shareholders [Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Company Limited v. Riche-(1875)]. An act which is ultravires the directors, but intravires the company can be ratified by the members of the company through a resolution passed at a general meeting. If an act is ultravires the Articles, it can be ratified by altering the Articles by a Special Resolution at a general meeting.

✓ An ultra vires contract can never be made binding on the company. It cannot become "Intravires" by reasons of estoppel, acquiescence, lapse of time, delay or ratification.

✓ The disadvantages of this doctrine outweigh its main advantage, namely to provide protection to the shareholders and creditors. Although it may be useful to members in restraining the activities of the directors, it is only a nuisance in so far as it prevents the company from changing its activities in a direction which is agreed by all.

Articles of Association (AOA) - Rules and Regulations for the company including the bye laws of the company. Defines the duties, rights and powers of the director and company and form in which business will be carried on (Ashbury Carriage Vs. Ritches). [S.S. Rajkumar vs. Perfect Castings (P) Ltd.].

Content and model of AOA (Section 5):-

- (1) Contains regulations for management of company.
- (2) Inclusion of matters as prescribed and any additional if required.
- (3) Contain provisions for entrenchment (for protection): implement provision that specific provision of article can only be altered if restrictive provision than special resolution are met.
- (4) Inclusion of entrenchment provision will be made on formation/by amendment in articles which is agreed by all in case of private company and by special resolution in case of public company.
- (5) Company can also on formation/amendment of entrenchment provision notice will be given to registrar.
- (6) Forms of articles - Specified in table F,G,H, I and J as applicable to such company.
- (7) Company may adopt all the rules in model articles applicable.
- (8) Company registered after commencement of this act - If model articles are not excluded/modified then they will be considered as registered articles.

Relationship	Company with world	Company and its members

Doctrine of Indoor Management (Turquand Rule):-

- ✓ Exception to the doctrine of Constructive Notice.
- ✓ Outsiders are not deemed to have notice of internal affairs of the company. [The Royal British Bank vs. Turquand]
- ✓ Persons dealing with company are presumed to have read the registered documents and to see that the proposed dealing is not inconsistent therewith, but they need not enquire into the regularity of internal proceedings as required by MOA & AOA.
- ✓ Exceptions to the doctrine of Indoor Management/turquand rule:-
 1. Actual/Constructive knowledge of irregularity :- Rule does not protect any person dealing with company who has notice of irregularity. (Howard vs. Patent Ivory Manufacturing Co.) (Morris v Kansseen)
 2. Suspicion of irregularity :- The protection of rule is also not available where the circumstances surrounding the contract are suspicious and therefore invite inquiry. (Anand Bihari Lal vs. Dinshaw & Co.) (Haughton & Co. v. Nothard, Lowe & Wills Ltd.)
 3. Forgery: The rule applies only to irregularities which might otherwise affect a transaction but it cannot apply to forgery which must be regarded as nullity.

Bearer Instrument: It is an instrument where the name of the payee is blank or where the name of payee is specified with the words "or bearer" or where the last indorsement is blank. Such instrument can be negotiated by mere delivery.

Order Instrument: It is an instrument which is payable to a person or Payable to a person or his order or Payable to order of a person or where the last indorsement is in full, such instrument can be negotiated by indorsement and delivery.

"Inland instrument": A promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque drawn or made in India and made payable in, or drawn upon any person resident in India shall be deemed to be an inland instrument.

An inland instrument remains inland even if it has been endorsed in a foreign country.

"Foreign instrument": A foreign instrument is one which is not an inland instrument.

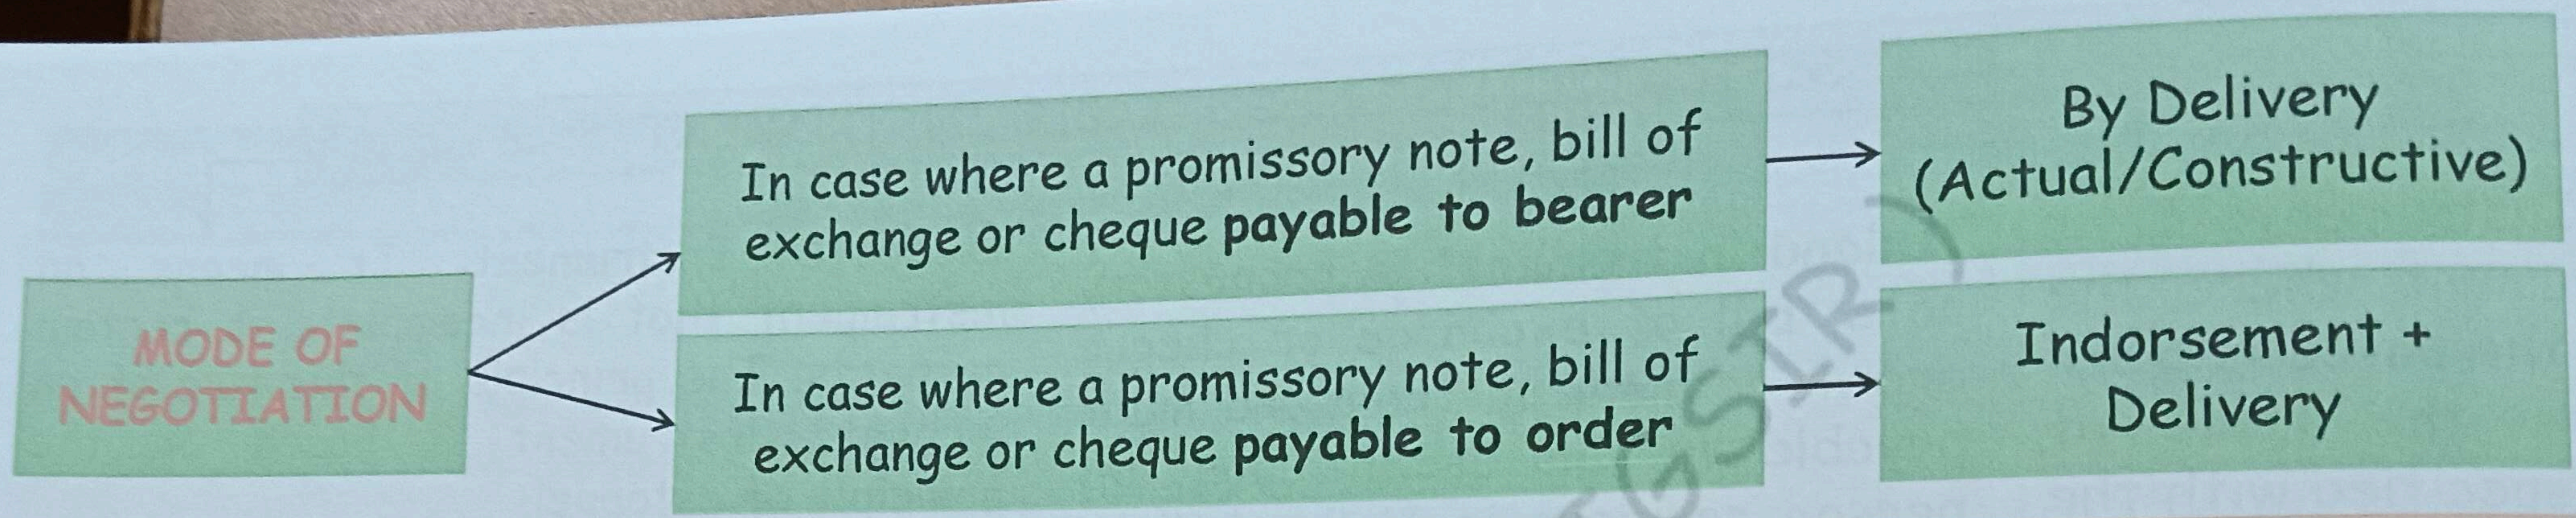

Liability of drawer of foreign bill: regulated by law of place in which instrument is made.

Liability of acceptor and endorser: regulated by law of place where instrument is payable.

Inchoate Instrument: It means an instrument that is incomplete in certain respects. The principle of this rule of an inchoate instrument is based on the principle of estoppel.

Liability on drawing inchoate instrument: The holder cannot recover the amount in excess of the amount intended to be paid by the signor. The holder in due course can recover any amount on such instrument provided it is covered by the stamp affixed on the instrument.

Ambiguous Instrument: Where an instrument may be construed either as a promissory note or bill of exchange, the holder may at his election treat it as either, and the instrument shall be thenceforward treated accordingly. Thus, an instrument which is vague and cannot be clearly identified either as a bill of exchange, or as a promissory note, is an ambiguous instrument.

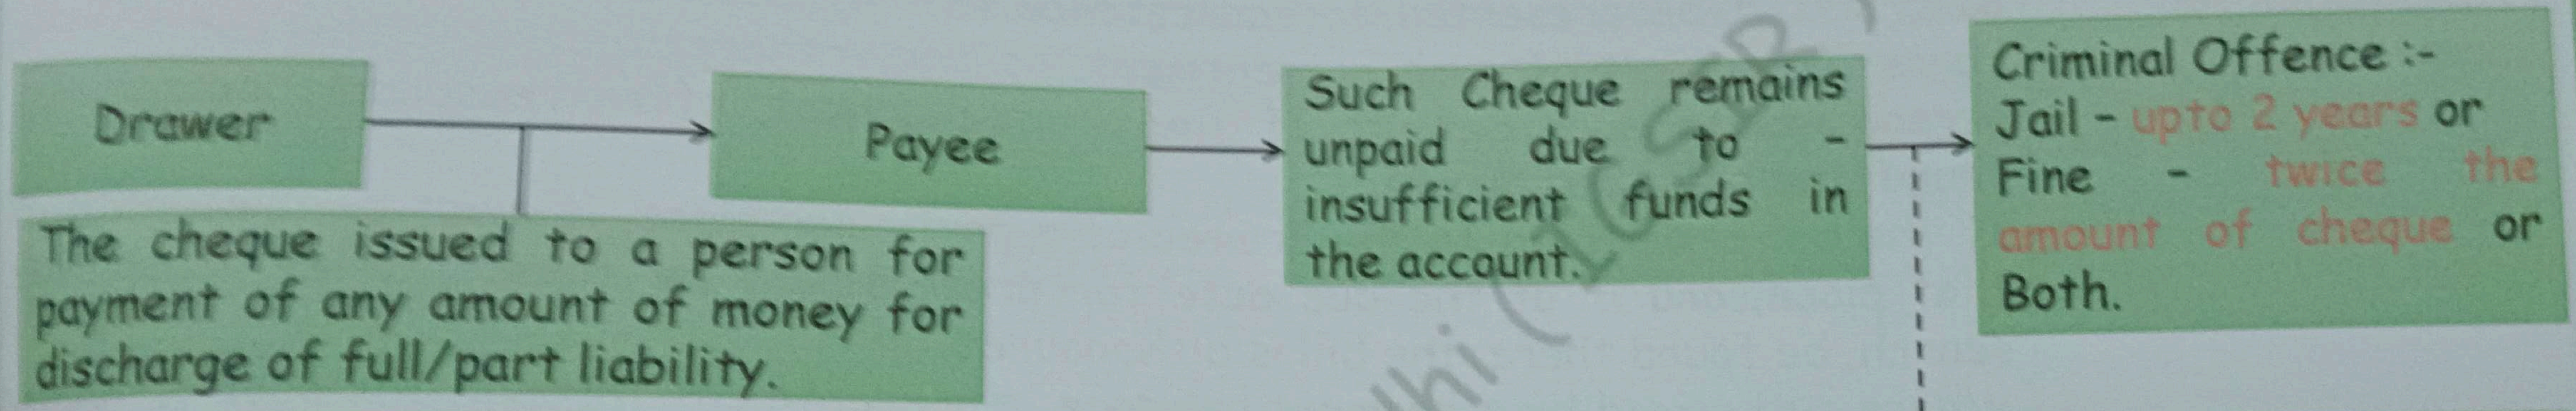

Importance of Delivery in Negotiation:- The delivery must be voluntary, and the object of delivery should be to pass the property in the instrument to the person to whom it is delivered. The delivery can be, actual or constructive.

Actual delivery takes place when the instrument changes hand physically.

Constructive delivery takes place when the instrument is delivered to the agent, clerk or servant of the indorsee on his behalf or when the indorser, after indorsement, holds the instrument as an agent of the indorsee.

When an instrument is conditionally or for a special purpose only, the property in it does not pass to the transferee, even though it is indorsed to him, unless the instrument is negotiated to a holder in due course. The contract on a negotiable instrument until delivery remains incomplete and revocable. The delivery is essential not only at the time of negotiation but also at the time of making or drawing of negotiable instrument. The rights in the instrument are not transferred to the indorsee unless after the indorsement the same has been delivered. If a person makes the indorsement of instrument but before the same could be delivered to the indorsee the indorser dies, the legal representatives of the deceased person cannot negotiate the same by mere delivery thereof.

UNIT -1: FORMATION OF THE CONTRACT OF SALE

Introduction -

It extends to the whole of India. It came into force on 1st July, 1930.

Scope -

- sale of goods which means movable properties.
- The Act is not applicable for the sale of immovable properties like land, shop or house etc

Definition: -

1. Buyer and Seller: 'Buyer' means a person who buys or agrees to buy goods [Section 2(1)]. 'Seller' means a person who sells or agrees to sell goods.

2. "Document of title to goods" includes bill of lading, dock-warrant, warehouse keeper's certificate, wharfingers' certificate, railway receipt, multimodal transport document, warrant or order for the delivery of goods and any other document used in the ordinary course of business as proof of the possession or control of goods or is for authorizing or purporting to authorize, either by endorsement or by delivery, the possessor of the document to transfer or receive goods thereby represented. The list is only illustrative and not exhaustive.

There is a difference between a 'document showing title' and 'document of title'. A share certificate is a 'document' showing title but not a document of title. It merely shows that the person named in the share certificate is entitled to the share represented by it, but it does not allow that person to transfer the share mentioned therein by mere endorsement on the back of the certificate and the delivery of the certificate.

3. Mercantile Agent [Section 2(9)]: It means an agent who in the customary course of business has, as such agent, authority either to sell goods or to consign goods for the purpose of sale or to buy goods or to raise money on the security of the goods.

4. Goods and other related terms: "Goods" means every kind of movable property other than actionable claims and money and includes stock and shares, growing crops, grass, and things attached to or forming part of the land, which are agreed to be severed before sale or under the contract of sale. Actionable claims' are claims, which can be enforced only by an action or suit, e.g., debt. The Fixed Deposit Receipts (FDR) are considered as goods. "Goods" include both tangible goods and intangible goods like goodwill, copyrights, patents, trademarks etc. Stock and shares, gas, steam, water, electricity and decree of the court are also considered to be goods.

Types Of Goods

5. Delivery - its forms and derivatives: It means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another

Forms of delivery

- a) Actual delivery: When the goods are physically delivered to the buyer. Actual delivery takes place when the seller transfers the physical possession of the goods to the buyer or to a third person authorised to hold goods on behalf of the buyer
- b) Constructive delivery: When it is effected without any change in the custody or actual possession of the thing as in the case of delivery by attornment (acknowledgement) Constructive delivery takes place when a person in possession of the goods belonging to the seller acknowledges to the buyer that he holds the goods on buyer's behalf.
- c) Symbolic delivery: When there is a delivery of a thing in token of a transfer of something else, i.e., delivery of goods in the course of transit may be made by handing over documents of title to goods, like bill of lading or railway receipt or delivery orders or the key of a warehouse containing the goods is handed over to buyer. Where actual delivery is not possible, there may be delivery of the means of getting possession of the goods.

6. Property - 'Property' here means 'ownership' or general property. The property in the goods means the general property i.e., all ownership right of the goods. It is quite possible that the general property in a thing may be in one person and a special property in the same thing may be in another e.g., when an article is pledged. The general property in a thing may be transferred, subject to the special property continuing to remain with another person i.e., the pledgee who has a right to retain the goods pledged till payment of the stipulated dues.

7. Quality of goods includes their state or condition.

8. Insolvent [Section 2(8)]: A person is said to be insolvent when he ceases to pay his debts in the ordinary course of business, or cannot pay his debts as they become due, whether he has committed an act of insolvency or not

9. Price [Section 2(10)]: Price means the money consideration for a sale of goods. It is the value of goods expressed in monetary terms. It is the essential requirement to make a contract of sale of goods.

ELEMENTS TO CONSTITUTE A CONTRACT OF SALE:-

Sale and contract for work and labour:

A contract of sale of goods is one in which some goods are sold or are to be sold for a price. But where no goods are sold, and there is only the doing or rendering of some work of labour, then the contract is only of work and labour and not of sale of goods.

Difference Between Sale And Agreement To Sale:-

- ✓ In case of sale, the property in the goods passes to the buyer immediately whereas in agreement to sale Property in the goods passes to the buyer on future date or on fulfilment of some condition.
- ✓ Sale is an executed contract whereas agreement to sale is executory contract.
- ✓ In case of sale, the seller can sue the buyer for the price of the goods because of the passing of the property therein to the buyer whereas in agreement to sale The aggrieved party can sue for damages only and not for the price, unless the price was payable at a stated date.
- ✓ In case of sale, A subsequent loss or destruction of the goods is the liability of the buyer. Whereas in case of agreement to sale Such loss or destruction is the liability of the seller.
- ✓ In case of sale, burden of risk is on buyer whereas in case of agreement risk is on the seller.
- ✓ Sale Creates Jus in rem means right against the whole world. Whereas agreement to sale creates Jus in personam means rights against a particular party to the contract.

Difference between sale and hire purchase:-

- ✓ In case of sale, Property in the goods is transferred to the buyer immediately at the time of contract. Whereas in hire purchase, the property in goods passes to the hirer upon payment of the last instalment.
- ✓ In sale, The position of the buyer is that of the owner of the goods. In hire purchase, The position of the hirer is that of a bailee till he pays the last instalment.
- ✓ In case of sale, The buyer cannot terminate the contract and is bound to pay the price of the goods. Whereas in hire purchase, The hirer may, if he so likes, terminate the contract by returning the goods to its owner without liability.
- ✓ In case of sale, The buyer can pass a good title to a bona fide purchaser from him. Whereas hirer cannot pass any such title.
- ✓ The buyer in sale can resell the goods whereas hire purchaser cannot.
- ✓ In case of sale, The seller takes the risk of any loss resulting from the insolvency of the buyer. Whereas in hire purchase, owner has no such risk.

Difference between Sale and bailment:-

- ✓ In case of sale, The property in goods is transferred from the seller to the buyer. So, it is transfer of general property. However, in bailment There is only transfer of possession of goods from the bailor to the bailee for any of the reasons like safe custody, carriage etc. So, it is transfer of special property.
- ✓ The return of goods in contract of sale is not possible. However, The bailee must return the goods to the bailor on the accomplishment of the purpose.
- ✓ In case of sale, The consideration is the price in terms of money. However, in bailment The consideration may be gratuitous or non-gratuitous.

Ascertainment of price : 'Price' means the monetary consideration for sale of goods.

The price in the contract of sale may be-

- fixed by the contract,
- fixed in a manner provided by the contract
- determined by the course of dealings between the parties.

CONTRACT OF SALE HOW MADE:-

1. an offer to buy or sell goods for a price and acceptance of such offer
2. may be immediate delivery
3. There may be immediate payment of price, but it may be agreed that the delivery is to be made at some future date.
4. may be immediate delivery of the goods and an immediate payment of price
5. may be agreed that the delivery or payment or both are to be made in instalments
6. may be agreed that the delivery or payment or both are to be made at some future date

Agreement to sell at valuation (Section 10):

Where there is an agreement to sell goods on the terms that the price is to be fixed by the valuation of third party and such third party cannot or does not make such valuation, the agreement is thereby avoided: Provided that, if the goods or any part thereof have been delivered to, and appropriated by, the buyer, he shall pay a reasonable price therefore.

Where such third party is prevented from making the valuation by the fault of the seller or buyer, the party not in fault may maintain a suit for damages against the party in default.

SUBJECT MATTER OF CONTRACT OF SALE

Existing or future goods :
May be either existing goods that are acquired, owned or possessed by the seller, or future goods.

There may be a contract for the sale of goods the acquisition of which by the seller depends upon a contingency which may or may not happen.

Whereby a contract of sale the seller purports to effect a present sale of future goods, the contract operates as an agreement to sell the goods.

Goods perishing before making of contract:
Where there is a contract for the sale of specific goods, the contract is void if the goods without the knowledge of the seller have, at the time when the contract was made, perished or become so damaged as no longer to answer to their description contract.

Goods perishing before sale but after agreement to sell:

Where there is an agreement to sell specific goods, and subsequently the goods without any fault on the part of the seller or buyer perish or become so damaged as no longer to answer to their description in the agreement before the risk passes to the buyer, the agreement is thereby avoided or becomes void.

Perishing of future goods: If the future goods are specific, the destruction of such goods will amount to supervening impossibility and the contract shall become void.

Unit 2 : CONDITIONS & WARRANTIES

STIPULATION AS TO TIME (SECTION 11) - Time for the payment of price unless stipulated is not deemed to be of the essence of a contract of sale. But delivery of goods must be made without delay.

CONDITIONS AND WARRANTIES:

At the time of selling the goods, a seller usually makes certain statements or representations with a view to induce the intending buyer to purchase the goods. Such representations are generally about the nature and quality of goods, and about their fitness for buyer's purpose.

A representation which forms a part of the contract of sale and affects the contract, is called a stipulation. The more significant stipulations contained in a contract of sale of goods have been called as "Conditions", while the less significant stipulation have been given the name "Warranties".

"A condition is a stipulation essential to the main purpose of the contract, the breach of which gives rise to a right to treat the contract as repudiated".
"A warranty is a stipulation collateral to the main purpose of the contract, the breach of which gives rise to a claim for damages but not to a right to reject the goods and treat the contract as repudiated". Whether a stipulation in a contract of sale is a condition or a warranty depends in each case on the construction of the contract. A stipulation may be a condition, though called a warranty in the contract.

WHEN CONDITION TO BE TREATED AS WARRANTY - cases where a breach of condition be treated as a breach of warranty - buyer loses his right to rescind the contract and can claim damages only.

voluntary waiver by buyer.

claim only damages instead of repudiating the contract. Here, the buyer has not waived the condition but decided to treat it as a warranty.

Where the fulfilment of any condition or warranty is excused by law by reason of impossibility or otherwise

Where the contract is non-severable and the buyer has accepted either the whole goods or any part.

IMPLIED CONDITIONS

1. Condition as to title - The condition implied is that the seller has the right to sell the goods at the time when the property is to pass. If the seller's title turns out to be defective, the buyer must return the goods to the true owner and recover the price from the seller.

2. Sale by description - Where there is a contract of sale of goods by description, there is an implied condition that the goods shall correspond with the description. Buyer can reject goods if it is not as per description.

Rule - "if you contract to sell peas, you cannot compel the buyer to take beans. The Act, however, does not define 'description'.

- where the class or kind to which the goods belong has been specified, e.g., 'Egyptian cotton', "java sugar", etc., and
- where the goods have been described by certain characteristics essential to their identification, e.g., jute bales of specified shipment, steel of specific dimension.

3. Sale by sample - In a contract of sale by sample, there is an implied condition that-

- the bulk shall correspond with the sample in quality.
- the buyer shall have a reasonable opportunity of comparing the bulk with the sample.
- the goods shall be free from any defect rendering them un-merchantable, which would not be apparent on reasonable examination of the sample. This condition is applicable only with regard to defects, which could not be discovered by an ordinary examination of the goods. If the defects are latent, then the buyer can avoid the contract. This simply means that the goods shall be free from any latent defect i.e. a hidden defect.

4. Sale by sample as well as by description - Where the goods are sold by sample as well as by description the implied condition is that the bulk of the goods supplied shall correspond both with the sample and the description. In case the goods correspond with the sample but do not tally with description or vice versa or both, the buyer can repudiate the contract.

5. Condition as to quality or fitness - There is no implied condition as to the quality or fitness of the goods sold for any particular purpose. However, the condition as to the reasonable fitness of goods for a particular purpose may be implied if the buyer had made known to the seller the purpose of his purchase and relied upon the skill and judgment of the seller to select the best goods and the seller has ordinarily been dealing in those goods. This implied condition will not apply if the goods have been sold under a trademark or a patent name. There is implied condition of the part of the seller that the goods supplied shall be reasonably fit for the purpose for which the buyer wants them, provided the following conditions are fulfilled:

- The buyer should have made known to the seller the particular purpose for which goods are required.
- The buyer should rely on the skill and judgement of the seller.
- The goods must be of a description dealt in by the seller, whether he be a manufacturer or not.

6. Condition as to Merchantability - two requirements for this condition to apply:

- Goods should be bought by description.
- The seller should be a dealer in goods of that description. Provided that, if the buyer has examined the goods, there shall be no implied condition as regards defects which such examination ought to have revealed.

7. Condition as to wholesomeness: In the case of eatables and provisions, in addition to the implied condition as to merchantability, there is another implied condition that the goods shall be wholesome

IMPLIED WARRANTIES: implied warranties are read into every contract of sale unless they are expressly excluded by the express agreement of the parties.

Warranty as to undisturbed possession : An implied warranty that the buyer shall have and enjoy quiet possession of the goods. That is to say, if the buyer having got possession of the goods, is later on disturbed in his possession, he is entitled to sue the seller for the breach of the warranty.

Warranty as to non-existence of encumbrances : An implied warranty that the goods shall be free from any charge or encumbrance in favour of any third party not declared or known to the buyer before or at the time the contract is entered into.

Warranty as to quality or fitness by usage of trade : An implied warranty as to quality or fitness for a particular purpose may be annexed or attached by the usage of trade.

Disclosure of dangerous nature of goods: Where the goods are dangerous in nature and the buyer is ignorant of the danger, the seller must warn the buyer of the probable danger. If there is a breach of warranty, the seller may be liable in damages.

CAVEAT EMPTOR- means 'let the buyer beware'. When sellers display their goods in the open market, it is for the buyers to make a proper selection or choice of the goods. If the goods turn out to be defective, he cannot hold the seller liable. The seller is in no way responsible for the bad selection of the buyer. The seller is not bound to disclose the defects in the goods which he is selling. It is the duty of the buyer to satisfy himself before buying the goods that the goods will serve the purpose for which they are being bought. If the goods turn out to be defective or do not serve his purpose or if he depends on his own skill or judgment, the buyer cannot hold the seller responsible.

1. Fitness as to quality or use:

Where the buyer makes known to the seller the particular purpose for which the goods are required, so as to show that he relies on the seller's skill or judgment and the goods are of a description which is in the course of seller's business to supply, it is the duty of the seller to supply such goods as are reasonably fit for that purpose. Case law - Priest vs. Last

EXCEPTIONS TO CAVEAT EMPTOR

2. Goods of Merchantable Quality:

Where the goods are bought by description from a seller who deals in goods of that description there is an implied condition that the goods shall be of merchantable quality. The rule of Caveat Emptor is not applicable. This rule shall apply if the defects were such which ought to have not been revealed by ordinary examination.

3. Goods purchased under patent or brand name:

there is no implied condition that the goods shall be fit for any particular purpose.

4. Sale by sample:

this rule does not apply if the bulk does not correspond with the sample.

5. Goods sold by description:

there is an implied condition that the goods shall correspond with the description. If it is not so, then seller is responsible.

6. Trade Usage:

An implied warranty or condition as to quality or fitness for a particular purpose may be annexed by the usage of trade and if the seller deviates from that, this rule is not applicable.

7. Goods by sample as well as description:

the rule of Caveat Emptor is not applicable in case the goods do not correspond with both the sample and description or either of the condition

8. Seller actively conceals a defect or is guilty of fraud:

Where the seller sells the goods by making some misrepresentation or fraud and the buyer relies on it or when the seller actively conceals some defect in the goods so that the same could not be discovered by the buyer on a reasonable examination, then the rule of Caveat Emptor will not apply. In such a case the buyer has a right to avoid the contract and claim damages.

UNIT - 3: TRANSFER OF OWNERSHIP AND DELIVERY OF GOODS

Risk prima facie passes with the property. In case where goods are lost or damaged, the burden of loss will be borne by the person who is the owner at the time when the goods are lost or damaged.

PASSING OF PROPERTY:- Passing of property implies passing of ownership. The risk in the goods sold is that of buyer and not of seller, though the goods may still be in the seller's possession.

Depends upon two basic Factors:-

Identification of Goods: Section 18 provides that where there is a contract of sale for unascertained goods, the property in goods cannot pass to the buyer unless and until the goods are ascertained. The buyer can get the ownership right on the goods only when the goods are specific and ascertained.

Intentions of parties: The property in goods is transferred to the buyer at such time as the parties to the contract intend it to be transferred. Section 19(2) further provides that for the purpose of ascertaining the intention of the parties regard shall be:- terms - conduct of the parties - circumstances of the

The Primary Rules Determining The Passing Of Property From Seller To Buyer Are As Follows:

1. Property (Specific or ascertained goods) passes when intended to pass (Section 19):

For intention of the parties regard shall be had to the terms of the contract, the conduct of the parties and the circumstances of the case.

Unless a different intention appears, the rules contained in Sections 20 to 24 are rules for ascertaining the intention of the parties as to the time at which the property in the goods is to pass to the buyer.

• Specific goods in a deliverable state (Sec 20) - The property in the goods passes to the buyer when the contract is made, and it is immaterial whether the time of payment of the price or the time of delivery of the goods, or both, is postponed.

• Specific goods to be put into a deliverable state (Section 21): The property does not pass until such thing is done and the buyer has notice thereof.

• Specific goods in a deliverable state, when the seller has to do anything thereto in order to ascertain price (Section 22): The seller is bound to weigh, measure, test or do some other act or thing with reference to the goods for the purpose of ascertaining the price, the property does not pass until such act or thing is done and the buyer has notice thereof.

2. Goods sent on approval or "on sale or return" (Section 24) : The property therein passes to the buyer-

• signifies his approval or acceptance to the seller

• retains the goods without giving notice of rejection, then, if a time has been fixed for the return of the goods, on the expiration of such time, and, if no time has been fixed, on the expiration of a reasonable time;

• does something to the good which is equivalent to accepting (Pledging)

Sale for cash only or Return - Unless cash is paid for property Sale for cash only or Return

The Primary Rules Determining The Passing Of Property From Seller To Buyer Are As Follows : (Continued)

3. Goods must be ascertained:- No property in the goods is transferred to the buyer unless and until the goods are ascertained. [Section 18]

- The rules in respect of passing of property of unascertained goods are as follows:
- Sale of unascertained goods by description - (Sec 23) Where there is a contract for the sale of unascertained or future goods by description and goods of that description and in a deliverable state are unconditionally appropriated to the contract, either by the seller with the assent of the buyer or by the buyer with the assent of the seller, the property in the goods thereupon passes to the buyer. Such assent may be express or implied and may be given either before or after the appropriation is made.
 - Delivery to the carrier [Section 23(2)]: Where, in pursuance of the contract, the seller delivers the goods to the buyer or to a carrier or other bailee (whether named by the buyer or not) for the purpose of transmission to the buyer, and does not reserve the right of disposal, he is deemed to have unconditionally appropriated the goods to the contract.

4. Reservation of right of disposal (Section 25):- To secure that the price is paid before the property in goods passes to the buyer. Where there is contract of sale of specific goods or where the goods have been subsequently appropriated to the contract, the seller may, by the terms of the contract or appropriation, as the case may be, reserve the right to dispose of the goods, until certain conditions have been fulfilled. In such a case in spite of the fact that the goods have already been delivered to the buyer or to a carrier or other bailee for the purpose of transmitting the same to the buyer, the property therein will not pass to the buyer till the condition imposed, if any, by the seller has been fulfilled.

Circumstances under which the right to disposal may be reserved:

If the goods are shipped or delivered to a railway administration for carriage and by the bill of lading or railway receipt, as the case may be, the goods are deliverable to the order of the seller or his agent, then the seller will be prima facie deemed to have reserved to the right of disposal

Where the seller draws a bill on the buyer for the price and sends to him the bill of exchange together with the bill of lading or (as the case may be) the railway receipt to secure acceptance or payment thereof, the buyer must return the bill of lading, if he does not accept or pay the bill. And if he wrongfully retains the bill of lading or the railway receipt, the property in the goods does not pass to him.

RISK PRIMA FACIE PASSES WITH PROPERTY (SECTION 26) :-

unless otherwise agreed, the goods remain at the seller's risk until the property therein is transferred to the buyer, but when the property therein is transferred to the buyer, the goods are at the buyer's risk whether delivery has been made or not.

However, It provides that where delivery of the goods has been delayed through the fault of either buyer or seller, the goods are at the risk of the party in fault as regards any loss which might not have occurred but for such fault

TRANSFER OF TITLE BY NONOWNERS

Sale by person not the owner (Section 27) - The seller can sell only such goods of which he is the absolute owner. If the seller is not the owner of goods, then the buyer also will not become the owner i.e. the title of the buyer shall be the same as that of the seller. This rule is expressed in the Latin maxim "Nemo dat quod non habet" which means that no one can give what he has not got.

Exceptions to transfer of title by non-owners: In the following cases, a non-owner can convey better title to the bona fide purchaser of goods for value.

Sale by a Mercantile Agent: Good Title will be passed in following cases -

- possession of the goods or documents with the consent of the owner
 - sale in the ordinary course of business
 - buyer had acted in good faith & no notice of the fact that the seller had no authority to sell.
- Mercantile Agent means an agent having in the customary course of business as such agent authority either to sell goods, or to consign goods for the purposes of sale, or to buy goods, or to raise money on the security of goods

Sale by one of the joint owners: If one of several joint owners of goods has the sole possession of them by permission of the co-owners, the property in the goods is transferred to any person who buys them from such joint owner in good faith and has not at the time of the contract of sale notice that the seller has no authority to sell.

Sale by one who has already sold the goods but continues in possession thereof: If a person has sold goods but continues to be in possession of them or of the documents of title to them, he may sell them to a third person, and if such person obtains the delivery thereof in good faith and without notice of the previous sale, he would have good title to them, although the property in the goods had passed to the first buyer earlier. A pledge or other disposition of the goods or documents of title by the seller in possession are equally valid.

Effect of Estoppel: Where the owner is estopped by the conduct from denying the seller's authority to sell, the transferee will get a good title as against the true owner. But before a good title by estoppel can be made, it must be shown that the true owner had actively suffered or held out the other person in question as the true owner or as a person authorized to sell the goods.

Exceptions to transfer of title by non-owners: In the following cases, a non-owner can convey better title to the bona fide purchaser of goods for value.

→ Sale by buyer obtaining possession before the property in the goods has vested in him: Where a buyer with the consent of the seller obtains possession of the goods before the property in them has passed to him, he may sell, pledge or otherwise dispose of the goods to a third person, and if such person obtains delivery of the goods in good faith and without notice of the lien or other right of the original seller in respect of the goods, he would get a good title to them.

→ Sale by an unpaid seller: Where an unpaid seller who had exercised his right of lien or stoppage in transit resells the goods, the buyer acquires a good title to the goods as against the original buyer

→ Sale by a person in possession under voidable contract - CUFM

→ Sale under the provisions of other Acts - • Official Receiver or Liquidator • Purchase of goods from a finder of goods • A sale by pawnee can convey a good title to the buyer

PERFORMANCE OF THE CONTRACT OF SALE: The performance of a contract of sale implies delivery of goods by the seller and acceptance of the delivery of goods and payment of price for them by the buyer in accordance of the terms of the contract.

Delivery means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another. For delivery, physical possession is not important. The buyer should be placed in a position so that he can exercise his right over the goods. If the possession is taken through unfair means, there is no delivery of the goods. Delivery of goods is of three types: Actual, Actual, Constructive

Duties Of Seller And Buyer (Section 31): It is the duty of the seller to deliver the goods and of the buyer to accept and pay for them, in accordance with the terms of the contract of sale.

Payment and delivery are concurrent conditions : The seller shall be ready and willing to give possession of the goods to the buyer in exchange for the price, and the buyer shall be ready and willing to pay the price in exchange for possession of the goods.

Rules Regarding Delivery of goods

1. Delivery :	Anything which has effect of putting goods in possession of buyer or any other person concerned
2. Effect of part delivery:	A delivery of part of goods, in progress of the delivery of the whole has the same effect, for the purpose of passing the property in such goods, as a delivery of the whole; but a delivery of part of the goods, with an intention of severing it from the whole, does not operate as a delivery of the remainder.
3. Buyer to apply for delivery:	Apart from any express contract, the seller of goods is not bound to deliver them until the buyer applies for delivery.
4. Place of delivery:	Goods sold are to be delivered at the place at which they are at the time of the sale, and goods agreed to be sold are to be delivered at the place at which they are at the time of the agreement to sell or if not then in existence, at the place at which they are manufactured or produced.
5. Time of delivery:	If time fixed - Within time otherwise Reasonable Time
6. Goods in possession of a third party:	Where the goods at the time of sale are in possession of a third person, there is no delivery unless and until such third person acknowledges to the buyer that he holds the goods on his behalf. Provided that nothing in this section shall affect the operation of the issue or transfer of any document of title to goods.

7. Time for tender of delivery	Demand or tender of delivery may be treated as ineffectual unless made at a reasonable hour. What is reasonable hour is a question of fact.
8. Expenses for delivery	The expenses of and incidental to putting the goods into a deliverable state must be borne by the seller in the absence of a contract to the contrary.
9. Delivery of wrong quantity :	Delivered Goods < Contracted for - Buyer May entire reject them but if accepts then pay for whole Delivered Goods > Contracted for - the buyer may accept the goods included in the contract and reject the rest, or he may reject the whole. If the buyer accepts the whole of the goods so delivered, he shall pay for them at the contract rate. Goods mixed with different description - The buyer may accept the goods which are in accordance with the contract and reject, or may reject the whole.
10. Instalment deliveries:	Unless otherwise agreed, the buyer is not bound to accept delivery in instalments
11. Delivery to carrier:	Subject to the terms of contract, the delivery of the goods to the carrier for transmission to the buyer, is prima facie deemed to be delivery to the buyer
12. Deterioration during transit:	Where goods are delivered at a distant place, the liability for deterioration necessarily incidental to the course of transit will fall on the buyer, though the seller may agree to deliver at his own risk.
13. Buyer's right to examine the goods:	Buyer has reasonable opportunity to examine goods so that they are in conformity with the contract.

Rule related to Acceptance of Delivery of Goods : Acceptance is deemed to take place when the buyer-

- intimates to the seller that he had accepted the goods; or
- does any act to the goods, which is inconsistent with the ownership of the seller; or
- retains the goods after the lapse of a reasonable time

Buyer not bound to return rejected goods : Buyer is not bound to return them to the seller, but it is sufficient if he intimates that he refused to accept them.

Liability of buyer for neglecting or refusing delivery of goods : Buyer is liable to the seller for any loss occasioned by his neglect or refusal to take delivery and also for a reasonable charge for the care and custody of the goods.

UNIT - 4: UNPAID SELLER (UPS/UP seller)

UNPAID SELLER - When

1. whole of the price has not been paid or tendered and the seller had an immediate right of action for the price.
2. BOE/NI has been received as conditional payment, and the condition on which it was received has not been fulfilled by reason of the dishonour of the instrument or otherwise.

RIGHTS OF UNPAID SELLER:

1. a lien on the goods for the price while he is in possession of them
2. In case of the insolvency of the buyer a right of stopping the goods in transit after he has parted with the possession of them;
3. a right of re-sale

RIGHT OF UNPAID SELLER AGAINST THE GOODS

1. Seller's lien (Section 47) -

UP seller of goods who is in possession of them is entitled to retain possession of them until payment or tender of the price in the following cases, namely:-

- Goods sold without stipulation of credit
- Credit given but expired

• Buyer become insolvent The seller may exercise his right of lien notwithstanding that he is in possession of the goods as agent or bailee for the buyer.

Part delivery (Section 48): He may exercise his right of lien on the remainder, unless such part delivery has been made under such circumstances as to show an agreement to waive the lien.

Termination of lien (Section 49): UPS loses lien when

- delivers the goods to a carrier for the purpose of transmission to the buyer without reserving the right of disposal of the goods;
- when the buyer or his agent lawfully obtains possession of the goods;
- by waiver

The unpaid seller of goods, having a lien thereon, does not lose his lien by reason only that he has obtained a decree for the price of the goods.

2. Right of stoppage in transit (Section 50 to 52): when the buyer of goods becomes insolvent, the unpaid seller who has parted with the possession of the goods has the right of stopping them in transit. He may resume possession of the goods as long as they are in the course of transit and may retain them until paid or tendered price of the goods.

Duration of transit (Section 51):

1. Goods deemed to be in transit - Delivered to carrier or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer until the buyer or his agent in that behalf takes delivery of them from such carrier or other bailee.
2. If the goods are rejected by the buyer and the carrier or other bailee continues in possession of them, the transit is not deemed to be at an end, even if the seller has refused to receive them back.
3. When goods are delivered to a ship chartered by the buyer, it is a question depending on the circumstances of the particular case, whether they are in the possession of the master as a carrier or as agent of the buyer.
4. Where part delivery of the goods has been made to the buyer or his agent in that behalf, the remainder of the goods may be stopped in transit, unless such part delivery has been given in such circumstances as to show an agreement to give up possession of the whole of the goods.

How stoppage in transit is effected (Section 52):- 1. By taking actual possession of Goods, 2. By giving notice not to deliver goods.

Where the notice of stoppage in transit is given by the seller to the carrier or other bailee in possession of the goods, he shall re-deliver the goods to, or according to the directions of, the seller. The expenses of such re-delivery shall be borne by the seller.

Right of Lien	Right of Stoppage in Transit
retain possession	regain possession.
Seller should be in possession of goods	possession with carrier & buyer not acquired possession
Buyer may or may not be insolvent	Insolvent buyer
Before right of lien	begins when the right of lien ends.

Effects of sub-sale or pledge by buyer (Section 53): The right of lien or stoppage in transit is not affected by the buyer selling or pledging the goods unless the seller has assented to it.

Exceptions where unpaid seller's right of lien and stoppage in transit are defeated:

1. When the seller has assented to the sale, mortgage or other disposition of the goods made by the buyer.
2. When a document of title to goods has been transferred to the buyer and the buyer transfers the documents to a person who has bought goods in good faith and for value i.e. for price then, the proviso of sub-section (1) stipulates as follows:
 - If the last-mentioned transfer is by way of sale, right of lien or stoppage in transit is defeated,
 - If the last mentioned transfer is by way of pledge, unpaid seller's right of lien or stoppage only be exercised, subject to the rights of the pledgee.

However, the pledgee may be required by the unpaid seller to use in the first instance, other goods or securities of the pledger available to him to satisfy his claims.

Effect of stoppage: The contract of sale is not rescinded when the seller exercises his right of stoppage in transit. The contract still remains in force and the buyer can ask for delivery of goods on payment of price.

Right of re-sale : The right of resale is a very valuable right given to an unpaid seller. In the absence of this right, the unpaid seller's other rights against the goods that is lien and the stoppage in transit would not have been of much use because these rights only entitled the unpaid seller to retain the goods until paid by the buyer.

UPS Can Resell Goods In Following Conditions -

- ✓ Where the goods are of a perishable nature.
- ✓ Where the property in goods has not passed to the buyer
- ✓ Where an unpaid seller who has exercised his right of lien or stoppage in transit resells the goods - Acquires good title even if notice not given.
- ✓ A re-sale by the seller where a right of re-sale is expressly reserved in a contract of sale. No req of notice. Can sell on buyers default. Can recover damages from original buyer
- ✓ Where he gives notice to the buyer of his intention to re-sell the goods: If after the receipt of such notice the buyer fails within a reasonable time to pay or tender the price, the seller may resell the goods. Seller has Right to - Diff between CP & Resale price. Retain Profit - only when he has given notice of resale to buyer. Thus if goods are resold W.O giving notice - Seller cannot recover loss, if profit then return to original buyer.

Introduction:

Awareness of law is essential to become a full-fledged Chartered Accountant. This is because a Chartered Accountant is the first level of contact on many legal matters. So, we should possess knowledge of law so that we can advise our management and clients on legal matters at a basic or threshold level.

The purpose of a regulatory framework is to provide a set of uniform rules and regulations that will govern the conduct of people interacting with each other in personal as well as business relationships.

What is Law?

Law is a set of obligations and duties imposed by the government for securing welfare and providing justice to society. India's legal framework reflects the social, political, economic, and cultural aspects of our vast and diversified country.

Sources of Law:-

The main sources of law in India are

- ✓ Constitution,
- ✓ the statutes or laws made by Parliament and State Assemblies,
- ✓ Precedents or the Judicial Decisions of various Courts and in some cases, established Customs and Usages.

The Process of making Law:-

When a law is proposed in parliament it is called a Bill.

After discussion and debate, the law is passed in Lok Sabha

Thereafter, it has to be passed in Rajya Sabha.

It then has to obtain the assent of the President of India.

Finally, the law will be notified by the Government in the publication called the Official Gazette of India. The law will become applicable from the date mentioned in the notification as the effective date. Once it is notified and effective, it is called an Act of Parliament.

Types of laws in Indian Legal System

Common Law:

A judicial precedent or a case law is common law. A judgment delivered by the Supreme Court will be binding upon the courts within the territory of India under Article 141 of the Indian Constitution. The doctrine of Stare Decisis is the principle supporting common law. It is a Latin phrase that means "to stand by that which is decided." The doctrine of Stare Decisis reinforces the obligation of courts to follow the same principle or judgement established by previous decisions while ruling a case where the facts are similar or "on all four legs" with the earlier decision.

Principles of Natural Justice:

Natural justice, often known as Jus Natural deals with certain fundamental principles of justice going beyond written law.

Civil Law

Matters of disputes between individuals or organisations are dealt with under Civil Law. Civil courts enforce the violation of certain rights and obligations through the institution of a civil suit. Civil law primarily focuses on dispute resolution rather than punishment.

The act of process and the administration of civil law are governed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (CPC). Civil law can be further classified into Law of Contract, Family Law, Property Law, and Law of Tort.

Some examples of civil offences are breach of contract, non-delivery of goods, non-payment of dues to lender or seller defamation, breach of contract, and disputes between landlord and tenant.

Criminal law

Criminal law is concerned with laws pertaining to violations of the rule of law or public wrongs and punishment of the same. Criminal Law is governed under the Indian Penal Code, 1860, and the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (Crpc). The Indian Penal Code, 1860, defines the crime, its nature, and punishments whereas the Criminal Procedure Code, 1973, defines exhaustive procedure for executing the punishments of the crimes.

Murder, rape, theft, fraud, cheating and assault are some examples of criminal offences under the law.
